NATIONAL SILVER PARTY.

The Nevada idea of dealing with the financial question has been indorsed by a national conference at Washington. This conference was composed of men who have heretofore affiliated with the Republican, Democratic and Populist parties, but who are now willing to subordinate party allegiance and fealty to the principles enunciated by the conference and to support the nominees of the National Convention provided for by the conference.

It is left to the National Convention to name the party, but as principles, not names, are what intelligent men contend for the name is of minor importance. The convention is to meet at St. Louis July 22d. As the People's party National Convention will be held at the same time and place it is probable that a unification of the two parties will be accomplished. Both agree on the paramount issue and differ, if they differ at all, only on matters of minor importance. An effort will be made by the gold speculators, however, to keep them apart and no doubt emissaries of the gold trust, in the guise of financial reformers, will be at the conventions for the purpose of creating dissensions.

Some of the most prominent men in the silver conference were Populists of national reputation. Among these are Senator Butler of North Carolina and Senator Allen of Nebraska, who, of course, will use their influence to unite all who are in favor of releasing the country from the deadly grip of the gold combination. So that they will present an unbroken front to the common enemy in the next Presidential campaign. To accomplish this unification should be the aim of every man who believes in restoring silver to its old standard and prosperity to the country, and those who do ought to prevent it should be looked upon with suspicion and advised to go with the old parties where they rightfully belong.

In this State there was no material difference between the Silver and Populist platforms of 1894, and in this county four-fifths of those who supported the State Silver ticket voted for the Populist county ticket. The principles both contended for were almost identical, but by dividing their forces they gave the united gold men a great advantage. This year by uniting all who are for monetary reform in solid phalanx it is not unreasonable to expect that the gold men will be dislodged at the National Capital and that every State from Ohio west and south will cast its electoral vote for a Presidential candidate who is unequivocally in favor of the full restoration of silver and of issuing Government non-interest bearing notes to increase the circulating medium instead of interest-bearing bonds for gold to be shipped to Europe, which contracts rather than expands the legal tender money of the

REPUBLICANS WHO FAVOR SILVER.

There are Republicans in Congress who, unlike the leaders of the party in Nevada, favor free silver and proclaim the fact to the public. The Senators who are for free coinage have signed a declaration which is intended to be used as a demand in the coming campaign which the silver men will make for a plank in the national platform. It recites that the present financial system endangers the industrial prosperity of the United States. It was, therefore, resolved that the signers favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and that they favor a tariff which shall equalize the difference in the cost of labor between this country and the countries of Europe and Asia.

It is expected that every Republican in Congress who favors the remonetization of silver will sign the declaration. It is doubtful, however, if more than ten per cent of Mr. Reed's House will do so, and that will not affect the gold element which controls the party. The majority does not particularly object to Republicans who have constituencies that believe in restoring silver, talking in favor of free coinage so long as they vote with the majority, in fact talking for silver and voting for gold is one of the strategic methods adopted by the party leaders to get votes.

WHY, CERTAINLY

Has ex-Congressman Bartine forsaken the Republican and gone over to the Silver party? It looks that way, as we see he has been appointed as one of the Committee on Resolution by the American Bimetallic League, now in session in Washington, and which proposes to nominate a Presidential ticket. —Citizen Tribune.

Why, certainly. You couldn't expect a man who has common sense and a decent regard for the opinions of his fellow citizens to continue forever preaching free coinage and voting for a party that is opposed to it. Of course Mr. Bartine has left the Republican party. Didn't he tell the people last spring he placed the welfare of the country above the success of the Republican party?

The golding Democrats in the Kentucky Legislature seem to prefer a gold standard Republican to Blackburn. The Populists, whom the Republicans counted, on do not support Hunter, in fact one of them votes steadily for Blackburn. The eight or nine gold Democrats could elect Blackburn if they would vote for him.

The Kentucky Senatorship.

FRANKFORT, KY., January 25.—It now appears that there will be no election of a Senator this session of the Legislature. The supporters of Hunter say that no other Republican can win. The friends of Senator Blackburn swear that he is the only Democrat whose name will be considered. The two Populists split, one voting with the Republicans and one with the Democrats. Governor Bradley announces that he is for Hunter and says that he thinks Hunter will win.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

A dispatch from Constantinople says the Grand Vizier denies the existence of the reported offensive and defensive alliance between Turkey and Russia.

A Berlin paper understands that the Bundesrat refused to approve the resolutions passed by the Reichstag last February proposing an international conference on the use of both gold and silver coinage.

The House Committee on Public Lands has decided to report favorably the bill passed by the Senate to devote 25 per cent. of the proceeds of the sale of mineral lands for the support of a school of mines in each of the mining States.

News comes that all the prisoners at Pretoria, except Phillips, Rhodes, Farrar, Hammond and Fitzpatrick, have been released on bail. The examination of those arrested will be held next Wednesday and it is thought a majority of them will be discharged.

Colonel T. J. Roberts, who led the railroad employees at Oakland in the anti-Pullman strike of 1894, says the Southern Pacific is persecuting him and he is unable to get employment.

Five times he has been promised work and five times told he was not wanted. He was born and raised in Oakland and will not give up the fight for a living.

The Provisional Committee appointed by the National Silver Conference has agreed to print 500,000 copies of the address, resolutions and call for a convention. It was agreed that each committee man should proceed at once to organize his State or Territory and report his plan of organization not later than February 20th, and that the Executive Committee meet in Washington not later than February 20th to perfect plans of organization.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Regular size, 50 cts. and $1.

Judge Cheney was occupied yesterday in hearing the case of Donlan vs. A. J. Clark. The plaintiff sued Clark for $1,500 damages on a lot of masquerade costumes that he had left at the Clarendon Hotel and which defendant claims were damaged to a great extent, beside some expensive costumes turned up missing. The trunk full of costumes was left at the Clarendon to secure a bill of $17 the defendant owed and which he afterwards paid. The trial will probably be concluded Monday.

POLITICAL AND OTHERWISE.

Morton, Reed and Allison, in the order named are considered the three prominent candidates for President on the Republican ticket. Platt is behind Morton, Quay behind Reed and the so-called bi-metallic west, is behind Allison. It is considered likely that the Morton and Reed forces will combine and if one fails his strength will go to the other.

Mr. Foraker of Ohio signalized his election to the Senate yesterday by a pyrotechnic silver speech, Republican bi-metalism. What Mr. Foraker has said at Columbus Mr. Reed could say from his place in the House, Mr. Allison from his place in the Senate, Governor Morton from his office at Albany, General Harrison from his quarters in Indianapolis or Mr. McKinley from his library at Canton, without causing the slightest injury to his presidential prospects from the Gold Bug East. And we all know that Governor Morton is the candidate of Wall Street, and we have had four years of Harrison and Major McKinley has refused to accept a nomination on a Silver Platform so Mr. Foraker's utterances are not so vitally significant as western straight liners would have them appear.

SURVEY CONTRACTS.

Nevada has been unfortunate in regard to her survey contracts. During recent years some twenty-four townships have been suspended for fraudulent or irregular surveys. Settlers who located land in townships where the survey contracts have been suspended or rejected have been unable to get their money refunded or to obtain title to their land. Nevada's Land Agent has been giving this question investigation, with a view of securing action. The status of these contracts are as follows:

Of the 24 suspended townships seven were reinstated by order of Commissioner Stone, June 18, 1889, to wit:

Tps. 38, 39 and 40 N., range 45 E.; tp.

40 N., r. 16 E.; tps. 39 and 40 N., r. 47 E.; tp.

40 N., r. 48 E.

State selections in those townships

will be acted on at an early day.

The following townships were wholly rejected, and the question of their reinstatement is now being considered by the Commissioner:

Tps. 36 and 37 N., r. 45 E.; tps. 37 and 38 N., r. 46 E.; tps. 37 and 38 N., r. 47 E.; tps. 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20 N., r. 50 E.; tp.

34 N., r. 60 E.

The following townships still remain suspended, and after the question of reinstatement of the above townships has been decided it is probable that a final adjustment of these will soon follow, viz:

Tp. 39 N., r. 46 E.; tps. 36, 37, 38 and

39 N., r. 48 E.

A number of locators of land have been unjustly treated, owing to the long suspension of these contracts. In examining the papers and reports and filed notes I ran across a report by some special examiners, one of whom is a well-known Nevada surveyor. I turned to a prominent official and called his attention to the name signed, which recommended a rejection of a survey. He laughed and replied: "Well, it's got to be a d—d rotten survey when — — — reports it as irregular and fraudulent."

NEWLANDS ACTIVE.

Mr. Newlands has been both alive and successful in the small duties appertaining to his office. It is here that a Congressman's usefulness to his constituents is most valuable. Among the latest items of interest to Nevada is the securing of a postoffice in Clover valley, with C. H. Roland as Postmaster. Also an extension of service to three times a week between Elko and Huntington. Neither letters, petitions nor requests are pigeon-holed by Mr. Newlands. He keeps matters before the departments until action is obtained.

REPUBLICANS WANT JONES OR STEWART.

In conversation with Senator Mitchell of Oregon the other day he informed me that there would be no reorganization of the Senate until the Utah Senators took their seats. The reorganizers are not so strong as they were earlier in the session. Either Senator Stewart or Jones is indispensable, actively by voting with Republicans or passively by refraining to vote.

THE NEVADA PACIFICATORS.

Don Quixote Bothsides, the "Great Pacificator," and his Red Cross cohort of Political Sancho Panzas in Nevada seem terribly wrought up over the prospects of war. Up to yesterday Chandler and Lodge, who have been making radical war speeches and introducing formidable war measures, had received no notification of the creation of this "Great Peace Party" among the Republicans of Nevada. Ever since the "Reno Pacificator" and "Anonymous Juncis" declared for peace and extended their hands elevated in true anglo-mania style the British press has assumed a belligerent attitude, "don't-cher-kno." When Lodge and Chandler learned of the "Pacificator's" attitude they will probably subside. What is strange to me is why astute politicians, who have been following John Sherman, should all at once disagree with such men as Lodge and Chandler. They are all Republicans. There are four classes in America opposed to war. Ministers of the gospel, who are sincere and whose duty it is to teach peace and good will on earth;

women, whose tender hearts and loving natures abhor strife and bloodshed; the bondholders, who love money more than country and peace before patriotism, and, fourthly, cowards. War with England, France and Germany! War war! war! Let there be war and plenty of it, and "I—d be he who first cries, "Hold, enough!" The Republican Peace Party of Nevada, however much opposed to war, would reap a rich harvest as sellers and bounty-jumpers.

However, Cleveland meant war. The Republicans run a Monroe Doctrine bluff. He took the wind out of the Republicans by going them one better.

This war message was but a runner for his bond issue. If war should mean rich coining and financial emancipation it would be a fortunate thing.

GETTING EVEN WITH CARLISLE.

Here is a good story concerning Carlisle never before in print. It was related to me by parties interested, one of whom is a prominent Pittsburg newspaper man. There is a jovial Irish newspaper man at the Capitol, a brilliant man in his line, who rendered

Secretary Carlisle a valuable service when the latter was a Congressman a number of years ago. It was in a close contest and the service was invaluable.

Carlisle and the Irishman were great friends, and the Secretary told him if he ever needed a favor not to fail to call on him. Years slipped by. Carlisle became Secretary of the Treasury.

A Pittsburg paper sent to the Irishman a request for an important "scoop," knowing that the relations between the two were cordial. The Irishman presented himself at the Secretary's office and sent in his card. He was informed that Carlisle was busy, but he could call to-morrow. The next day he presented himself and with no better success.

The third day he came. Mr. Van Sonnen, the aristocratic Secretary to Carlisle, informed him rather testily that the Secretary was busy and could not see him or be bothered with him.

The Irishman is a small man and rather negligible in appearance. He drew himself up in the full measure of his dignity.

Says he: "Present my compliments to the Senator, and tell him that I called to see him, not his man servant nor his maid servant nor his ass.

Good-day, sir."

The Irishman immediately repaired

downstairs to the Revenue Cutter

Service Department and presented himself to the Chief, saying: "I am an intimate friend of the Senator and I would like to see the itineraries of his trip." He was given carte blanche to examine the route, the service, the men employed and the full itinerary of a proposed trip with a revenue cutter. It so happened that it was one of the private junketing trips of Carlisle at the expense of the Government. An immense service at an enormous expense had been provided. It was one of those historic trips down the Potomac so frequent early in his term of office. In a few days the Pittsburg paper came out in a sensational article giving a detailed expose of the abuse. The press took it up and no Cabinet officer ever received a roar so severe as did Carlisle. He did not take his pleasure trip.

Cattle Shipments.

The largest number of cattle that have been in the corrals for shipment for sometime were rested here last night and will be reshipped to-day.

There were over 1,200 head divided up as follows: Twenty cars for the Western Meat Company which arrived from the eastern part of the State yesterday afternoon.

Twenty-five cars of steers from

Shasta county, California, belonging to John Swanston and Jesse D. Carr enroute to Omaha, two cars for Rodeo

three for Silverberg and seven for Owens, bound west.

Beef advanced 1/2¢ a cent per pound hero yesterday and prospects are good for the price to go up rapidly as Eastern markets are coming to the front as good bidders.

Four Big Successes.
